Nitrogen equal to 10 per cent, of Non-Volatile Ammonia.

20 , Soluble \ Guano Phos-TIHIS Manure is prepared from genuine Peruvian Government Guana, The result of its special treatment is that the Ammonia is fixed. the Phosphates in the Raw Guano rendered soluble, and the Manure brought into the con dition of a free dry powder. At long nothing from exposure to theatmosphere, or to the heat of the sun. It is offered to the farmer with a Guarantee of its composition; and is, in fact, the richest and, considering the quality, the cheapest Guaranteed Manure at present in the market. Its fertilizing properties are such as will enable the consumer to the use of Guano. APPLICATION OF DISSOLVED PERU-VIAN GUANO TO COLONIAL

PRODUCE. SUGAR CANE.—Dissolved Perturian Guano produces strong and succulent canes, rich in crystallizable engar, without detriment to the productive power of the land. From 3 to 4 owts, of Dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre is a good dressing for Sugar Cane, INDIAN CORN.—Three to 4 cwts. of Dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre exercises a powerful effect upon Indian Corn, and largely increases this crop. RICE. We should strongly recommend the use of 2 to 3 owter per sore for Rice, for, although irrigation is generally solely relied upon as a means of producing a good crop of Rice, there can be no doubt that, in addition to irrigation, 2 or 3 owts. of Dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre will be highly beneficial. TEA. Judging from the limited experience at our command with regard to the manuring of Tea plantations, we confidently recommend it to planters, whose reports we shall be glad COTTON.—The yield of Cotton bas of late years been greatly increased by the use of artificial manures, containing a fair proportion of ammonia and much soluble phosphate of lime. notash, and other alkaline salts. Dissolved Peruvian Guano meets the requirements of the Cotton plant, inasmuch as it turnishes all the elements of fertility which are calculated to promote the lexuriant growth of the same. I the increase in quantity be made the chief object, 4 to 5 cwts, of Dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre will prove most advantageous; but if greater care be given to the fine quality of the Cotton, the use of 2 to 3 owts. of Dissolved Peruvian Guano, together with 2 to 3 cwts. of mineral apperphosphate; per acre, will be found to answer better.

The subject of merchant shipping, has thus always been one which has been dealt with with great care, and with regard to which the Imperial Government is justly jealous of its prerogatives. All Colonial logislation has to be in conformity with the general principles o Imperial legislation on such subjects, and it would, therefore, be impossible to hurry through a measure of this importance because it is required somewhat urgently in one special direction. He made, in a despatch with reference to it, three distinct misstatements; first, he said she was captured by a revenue orniser in the command of Captain Palmer; next, that she could not produce a grand shop for her cargo; and lastly, that the owner appeared at the office of the Superintendent of Customs at Canton; and having acknowledged the attempt to amuggle the goods into Hongkong, had paid a fine for the release of the jank and cargo. These statements the captain and owner declared were entirely wrong, that the junk had been seized by a Ohinese war, junk, and not by Captain Palmer, and that they had never appeared at Canton as stated. Mr. Pyks suggested that perhaps it might be las well to adjourn the meeting, in order to obtain further information.

We take the following account of quite a new discovery in the way of getting rid of tenants, from the Tuapeka Times: "A rather novel way of ejecting obnexious tenants was lately adopted by a landlady at the Teviot with great success. After all legitimate means had failed, she tried the following strategy Whilst her lodgers (they were man and wife) were locked in the arms of Morpheus, and probably in each other's arms, a flood of water, which had been stored in the attic, wag let in upon them from the region above the bed. Imagining that a second deluge had set in, or that the Molyneux had overflowed its banks in a mighty flood, they, in the shortest possible time, managed to clear out as for their lives to the small delight of the landlady, who had watched the result o the manœvure with considerable anxiety."

JENNY LIND AND BARNUM. Before the first concert came off, it was announced in the newspapers that Miss Lind intended to inaugurate her career in America by presenting her share of the proceeds to public charities in the city of New York. I believe that the suggestion came from Mr. Barnum, and it was a master-stroke of policy. The day after that concert I again saw Here is another also, we think, very beautiful Miss Lind, and received from her about eleven It is by some ascribed to Rufinus, by others thousand dollars for distribution. The best of it is that, as I have since had reason to believe, the receipts of that first concert fell far short of Mr. Barnum's expectations, and that the public might not suspect the fact, he himself furnished a large portion of the thology. This we shall endeavour to supply money which figured as Miss Lind's share. Again and again Miss Lind desixed as it goes, with a slight alteration to bring changes made in the contract to her own ad- it near the original :vantage, and every time Mr. Barnum violded. Whatever his motive, he was most obliging and complaisant, and although I have never since met him, I have always esteemed him for the good-natured liberality which he exhibited at this time in his business relations with Miss Lind. I believe that she received every farthing that belonged to her, and that he treated her with the most scrupulous honour. I believe that the immediate cause of the rupture was that Barnum desired her to sing in a building in See how modern feelings are apt to run, as Philadelphia which she denominated a cir. The way in which she was bounded for charity all the time was disgraceful to the country. Besides receiving scores of letters, she was daily besieged by male and female beggars, who obtained access to her upon every pretext, and who tormented her for donations for themselves or others. The impudence of some of Shakspeare, though no great scholar, had these people was almost incredible. I himself lived among profound and accomonce saw ber play the tragedy queen plished scholars. I am ashamed to be compelled to say that many American' ladies urged their pleas in behalf of objects, some of them undoubtedly meritorious, with an importunity which overstepped the bounds What is this but Burns's passionete of propriety.

Miss Lind was a calm, sensible, conscientious woman of high principles, rather calculating than emotional. She detested humbug--a word which was constantly in her month.
